

Jane Johnson
Senior Vice President of Corporate Affairs

Jane Johnson is Senior Vice President of Corporate Affairs at Emptoris. She has over 20 years of broad, international operational and human resource management experience. Jane is responsible for facilitating Emptoris' global growth and actively participating in the management of its business operations. In addition, Jane also has overall responsibility for the global strategy and direction of Emptoris' human resources, including managing, recruiting, training and diversifying human resources for the organization. As a member of the executive team, she is instrumental in the corporate and human development of the firm. Prior to joining Emptoris, Jane held various senior management positions including Vice President of Corporate Development and Human Resources at NetCracker Technology, and Executive Vice President of Human Resources and Business Operations at Weber/Shandwick Technologies and Cone Communications.